

Tips for Teachers

•Open House/Meet the Teacher Night Idea:

Do this lesson the first week of school and use it for your bulletin board. The heading can read, "Our Class is as Sharp as a Pencil!" Have the parents try to guess which student is theirs based on the simile photo/description. Parents, can raise the portrait, to reveal the actual student picture. (Note: Laminate the portraits since they will be raised and lowered frequently.)

•Do the activity with your staff! Either post a similar bulletin board where the students have to guess which teacher is being described, or compile the portraits together for a video that can be played on morning announcements. (Note: Teachers tend to bring in larger items, so create a giant face shape to snap your portraits.)
